

May Be

Vincent Mason

Who was I before we met? I probably couldn't tell you
You're looking at a different man, it's probably for the better
The right town, the right time, seeing things in a new light
It's looking like you're right

Loving you may be the only thing I'm made for
Maybe these boots were made to get you on the dance floor
That empty bench seat was always supposed to be yours
If I called it fate would it be crazy?
'Cause loving you may be

It's like the sun's supposed to set for us together
Heaven knew you and I were gonna be forever
I'm seeing things in a new light
It's looking like you're right

Loving you may be the only thing I'm made for
Maybe these boots were made to get you on the dance floor
That empty bench seat's always supposed to be yours
If I called it fate would it be crazy?
'Cause loving you may be

They'll remember me for when I'm gone, when I'm gone

Loving you may be the only thing I'm made for
Maybe these boots were made to get you on the dance floor
That empty bench seat was always supposed to be yours
If I called it fate would it be crazy?
'Cause loving you may be
Loving you may be the only thing I'm made for
Maybe these boots were made to get you on the dance floor
That empty bench seat was always supposed to be yours
If I called it fate would it be crazy?
'Cause loving you may be
'Cause loving you may be
