

Common Decency

VIOLENT VIRA

Common decency
Would be enough to save you
The writers from the start
Will only complicate the story
It goes on and on and on at a return point
But baby I don't have enough
In me to move on

Wanna lead you in
Stutter breathing
Waiting patiently
Lean to the side
I'm not beating this Little game I'm in
I'm not losing
I'm waiting tonight
(Tonight)

Say you love me, you love me
Say you love me, you love me
You know you wanna say it
Shut up or make a statement
Say you love me, you love me
Say you love me, you love me
Confession so belated
Oh God, I'm so impatient
The feelings we evaded
Whoa-oh-oh
Would it make it complicated?

Common decency
The principle still takes two
And the feelings from the start
Still permeate
It still consumes me
And I
Don't wanna spill my heart just to bleed
So why
Can't you just say it first
Take the lead

I'm so close to it
It's burnin' on my lips
Should I say it
Or wait it this time
This prideful ignorance
It isn't limerence
It's so much deeper
Than I coincide
You're mine

Say you love me, you love me
Say you love me, you love me
You know you wanna say it
I'm exhausted from the waitin
Say you love me, you love me
Say you love me, you love me

Confession so belated
Did I rush and mistake it
Whoa-oh-oh
What's stoppin' you from saying

That you love me, you love me
Yeah, you love me, you love me
So hurry up and say it
Shut up or make a-
Woo!
Say you love me, you love me
Say you love...
You love...
Whoa
Whoa
