

Future Ghost

Violette Wautier

I've been finding it hard to be in the moment
When I know pages are turning the chapter is closing
I've been stuck in a war with my heart and my head
Missing, what are we loosing now that it's ending

So I'll hold you extra close
Knowing that I'm gonna have to let you go
Before your someone that I used to know, used to know, used to know, oh
I'm talking to the future ghost, ghost

I'm talking to the future ghost, ghost, ghost

Finding the reminders in my apartment
All the walls in my heart are already haunted
You'll start making me jealous, I'll wanna call you but that would be selfish
Still gonna hurt when your somebody elses
Even though I'm not the one

So I'll hold you extra close
Knowing that I'm gonna have to let you go
Before your someone that I used to know, used to know, used to know, oh
I'm talking to a future ghost, ghost

That's how the story goes
I'll just say that this is gonna hurt the most
You'll be someone that I used to know, used to know, used to know, oh
I'm talking to a future ghost, ghost

I'm talking to the future ghost, ghost, ghost
