[Music and lyrics: De Feis] Never say ?never' Keep both your eyes on the flame The power that lies within you Comes forth once again Onward through darkness Envisions the diamonds beyond Through burning, deceit and cooruption The dream still lives on And you're standing there Raise your hands Split the air-tonight! Action call to arms I'm fighting for eternity For honour, for grace and for glory Immortality Layer by layer By mortar, by rampart, by stone A fortress, a haven for love I can call my own And you're standinbg there... Raise your hands Split the air... And dream for tomorrow Take my hand, we'll be free Ancient kingdoms in the sunset In the darkness of our years Never fade And you're standing there... Raise your hands Split the air... And dream for tomorrow Take my hands, cross the sea Raibow castles in the distance Emerald sands beckon me Come to me, come to me Heed the voice that is calling Come to me, come to me For thy kingdom Awaits your crowning Come to me...
