Before You Win

Visage

Looking for something new
'Cause everything you love is bad for you
Trying to break your mold
Before you lose all control, I know

I wanna dive with you, but there's nowhere left to dive to
It's obvious to me, you're not thinking clearly, my love

You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
Before you win

Looking to face the truth
'Cause everything I lost was close to you
Trying to make your peace
Before you lose all restrain, I know

I wanna dive with you, but there's nowhere left to dive to
It's obvious to me, you're not thinking clearly, my love

You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
Before you win

You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
You've seen the signs and ripped them down
You need to get your feet back on the ground
Before you win
