

Nowadays

Vistas

Okay, don't say hi to me
Don't see a different side of me
You should never have invited me
Like nothing's changed
Your friends laughing quietly
Raise a glass to your sobriety
Always let me down so righteously
We're not the same

Bend until you break
In the end they're what they make you
Let them overtake you
Try and sell a fake you

Nowadays
You pretend to love the things you hate
Come on say what you're supposed to
And act just like they told ya
As if there's not another way
Another way

Okay, it's no surprise to me
Told me you'd never lie to me
Crack a smile while undermining me
What do you gain?
Your friends clapping lifelessly
They hate what they aspire to be
Blame their pain unjustifiably
It's all a game

Bend until you break
In the end they're what they make you
Let them overtake you
Try and sell a fake you

Nowadays
You pretend to love the things you hate
Come on say what you're supposed to
And act just like they told ya
As if there's not another way
Another way

Nowadays
You pretend to love the things you hate
Come on say what you're supposed to
And act just like they told ya
As if there's not another way

Nowadays
You pretend to love the things you hate
Come on say what you're supposed to
And act just like they told ya
As if there's not another way
Another way