Vistas

I can be over in five, and I promise I'll be sober
But then you tell me it's over, you like to cover up
Say you don't mind cos I was blind
But I can see truth, and I don't find it amusing
Cos all the words that you're using, are separating us
Now it hurts, it's for the worst

Holding on with both hands you told me
I need you and I need you only
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger
Living for the world that you showed me
Stay a little longer and hold me
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger

You said that you're doing well, but it's been months we've not spoken
I hope that you don't feel broken, who am I kidding
You wanna lose touch, was I not enough?
But I can't think straight, I hope our paths will cross over
Or at least become closer, but I'm persuaded that It won't work, it's for the worst

Holding on with both hands you told me
I need you and I need you only
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger
Living for the world that you showed me
Stay a little longer and hold me
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger

Holding on with both hands you told me
I need you and I need you only
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger
Holding on with both hands you told me
I need you and I need you only
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger
Living for the world that you showed me
Stay a little longer and hold me
I was there for you
But you'd treat me like a stranger, treat me like a stranger
