

The Garden

Vistas

Have you got what it takes
To be more than the sum of all your fears?
When did you notice
I wasn't near?

So you made your escape
'Cause you couldn't replace
What we had for years
A lack of focus, becoming clear

So tell me all that's new
And let the love run through
You drop the old excuse
What was the meaning of life without you?

So go to the garden
And tend to the roses
And I will be waiting
For you to come around
So break down those fences
And we'll be together
And I'll still be waiting
For you to come around

Yeah, I'll still be waiting
For you to come around

I got no words of wisdom for you
Never found out what they mean
Go through the motions
Then leave the scene

I'll meet you in the kingdom
When all is said and done
Then you can release
The complications and disbelief

So tell me all that's new
And let the love run through
You drop the old excuse
What was the meaning of life without you?

So go to the garden
And tend to the roses
And I will be waiting
For you to come around
So break down those fences
And we'll be together
And I'll still be waiting
For you to come around

Yeah, I'll still be waiting
For you to come around