Remedy

Vivian Green

No matter what happens baby
Just be there when I get home
(home home home)
And no matter what happens baby yea
I just don't wanna be alone
(no-no no-no no-no)

Because I got so stressed and I'm so tired
Working myself to death
No I lost it plain, I'd do it myself
I'm such a perfectionist

I need you to slow me down
Cause only you know how
I need you more than ever now
Make it go away somehow

There's never been a remedy quite like you baby
You make me better better better
And I need you tonight much more than ever
So give me all your loving, take me to heaven
Just make me better better better
Take me away from here

No matter what happens baby oh
Make it a priority (oh oh oh oh oh oh) oh yea
And I don't care if you're late baby
Just get here eventually (oh oh oh oh oh oh)
Cause you give me that medicine
You make it all go away
And if I ever needed it
I need it most today

I need you to slow me down
Cause only you know how
I need you more than ever now
Make it go away somehow

There's never been a remedy quite like you baby
You make me better better better
And I need you tonight much more than ever
So give me all your loving, take me to heaven
Just make me better better better
Take me away from here

When I wake up in the morning
Just give me all your loving
And it ain't no question
I know that it's real baby
I know that it's real
And the world is just too much
All I wanna feel is your touch
And it ain't no other remedy
(You make it better better)

There's never been a remedy quite like you baby
You make me better better better

And I need you tonight much more than ever
So give me all your loving, take me to heaven
Just make me better better better
Take me away from here

You make me better
You make me better
You make me better
No there's never been a remedy like you baby

You make me better
You make me better
You make me better
Uu like you baby
No there's never been a remedy like you baby
