

Crime

Vök

Somehow, I've done what all my senses thought were wrong
Everybody blamed you
For things you thought you couldn't have done
I count down the minutes
Blame the wasted time on me
Everybody tries
But they're bound to find another crime

Night is here
Haunts everything
And shows it all so clear
Draws me in
Takes hold of me
And makes me feel alive

Don't you ever please, not forget
I can be anything, everything
Don't you ever think, again
I can't be anything, everything
Don't you ever please, not forget
I can be anything, everything
Don't you ever think, again
I can be, I can be everything

The moon is on the rise again
I feel it in my bones
The beast is taking over me
So I become alive

Don't you ever please, not forget
I can be anything, everything
Don't you ever think, again
I can't be anything, everything
Don't you ever please, not forget
I can be anything, everything
Don't you ever think, again
I can be, I can be everything
