

Spend The Love

Vöök

Feelings made of solid gold
I wonder if your heart has been sold
Your endless needs are out of control
Lay your head back and let it flow

Sell yourself to know your worth
Don't act like this is something you haven't heard
Money held you down since birth
Lay your head back and let it flow

Spend the love
Spend the love
Spend the love
Spend the love

In the night you lay in bed
Wide awake, your eyes are turning red
Do you fantasize on broken dreams?
You'll worry too much if you stay long enough

You're filling up on emptiness
Falling through the hole inside your chest
You're chasing all the highs with lows
Who said you can't buy happiness?

Spend the love
Spend the love with me
Spend the love
Spend the love with me

You're blinded by your fading sight
Feeding you your own demise
Blinded by a fading prize
'Cause truer love lives in disguise

Spend the love
Spend the love with me
Spend the love
Spend the love with me
