I can't play god but he plays me
I wanna get to the real world to find something new
Been in disguise for way too long
There's something about this that feels so wrong

I've been living with the wrong faith
Have I fallen too deep into my own shame?
Good things come to those who don't wait
It's time I go to chase my own fate

I go and hide bid my goodbyes
In search of new deep connections
I've found a religion
Holy dreams corrupted schemes
Can't ignore these temptations anymore

I've been living with the wrong faith
Have I fallen too deep into my own cage
Good things come to those who don't wait
It's time I go to chase my own fate

I've been living with the wrong faith
Have I fallen too deep into my own shame?
Good things come to those who don't wait
It's time I go to chase my own fate

Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come, good things come

Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come to those who don't wait
Good things come, good things come
