

Beautiful

VOILÀ

Beautiful

She looks just the way that I thought she would
And it seems like you did just as I said you should Forget me, find somebody who does you good

She's Cinderella, I'm like the carriage
Cause I came with baggage
I heard she's fixing all of the damage
Yeah
This ones the keeper, she fits the shoe
Glad my mistakes could bring her to you
Seem so happy, fucking fantastic

But why must she be beautiful?
Why must she be beautiful?
You found what you needed I can deal with that
But seeing you together's like a heart attack
Why must she be beautiful?

Irony
He looks like the guys you like in the movies
He looks like your bedroom wall at seventeen
He looks like all of my insecurities
Hurting me
He's Romeo and I'm just the dagger
Breaking her heart's the closest I had her
Telling myself that it shouldn't matter
No no
But you look so happy, what should I do?
He colored in, the breath that I drew
He seems so perfect, fucking fantastic

Why might she be beautiful?
Why might she be beautiful?
You found what you needed I can deal with that
But seeing you together's like a heart attack
Why must she be beautiful?

I watch you from outside the window
And I can't stop even though I know
It's not my business where you put your heart now
I witness the way she moves
And can't help but love her for you
You earned it, I'm glad she's perfect

But why must she be beautiful?
Why must she be beautiful?
You found what you needed I can deal with that
But seeing you together's like a heart attack
Why must she be beautiful?
