

Imaginary Friends

VOILÀ

Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na

Every one of my exes they left and say good luck on your own (damn)

It's kinda hard to confess this my death wish is for no funeral
Cause I don't need no fake friends or faking pretending their crying

So if I'm being honest bon voyage bitch I'm good on my own (yeah)

I can make you up if make believes enough 'cause this facade feels real when it's just us

I never get too lonely with my imaginary friends
I got everyone around me throwing a party in my head
And even on the worst of days I count on them to keep me sane
Can't fucking trust nobody like my imaginary friends

Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na

Yeah I could show them my dark side I won't hide and they'll never judge me

And I know every secret they'll keep it and they will still love me

And we will go through the make up or stay up and talk until morning

And even though it's unhealthy it helps me wouldn't change it for nothing, nothing

I can make you up if make believes enough 'cause this facade feels real when it's just us

I never get too lonely with my imaginary friends
I got everyone around me throwing a party in my head
And even on the worst of days I count on them to keep me sane
Can't fucking trust nobody like my imaginary friends

Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na
Na na eh oh na na

My mom and dad always told me they worried I'd end up alone yea h
I want somebody to see me and know me stay through my bones yea
h
But when I take all my walls down I'm let down leaving me hallo w
So if I'm being honest
