Krap Radio

Good morning everyone, another gray day has begun We want the drama of your life Talk free, talk free One word says it all...

Make you cry, put you on your knees Make you buy something you don't need Call now, you'll get a second one For free, for free One word says it all...

We want to take it out of bounds with some emotional breakdown If this is happening to you Speak free, speak free

Give me more horror stories Give me torture, tears and tease Brought to you by stupid shit For free, for free

Krap Radio, is it all you wanna hear? You're filling my head with krap in my head
