

Applause Of A Distant Crowd

VOLA

Watch me now I'm vanishing in the light
I photographed my latest meal in black and white
I kept my faith in videos of cats in shoes
And spent a day on episodes on plastic use

Watch me now I'm vanishing in the light
I'm filtering my losing streak warm and bright
A history I've left behind, high on words
Of all the stupid things we said but never heard

Straight to the extinction of your last company
Go to the lost amber funeral echo in the hall
Straight to the extinction of your last company
Go to the lost amber funeral echo in the hall

Straight to the extinction, burn and moan
Go to the lost amber carved in stone
Filming the blue morning carefully
Climbing the late hours. When will you see me?
Straight to the extinction, burn and moan
Go to the lost amber carved in stone
Filming the blue morning carefully
Climbing the late hours. When will you see me?

When will you see me?
When will you see me?
When will you see me?
When will you see me?
When will you see me?
