

Cannibal

VOLA

A burning crow gliding
A million drones diving down
Your eyes have gone hiding in your head
Of all your extinctions
I'm surely the worst you found
Your eyes have turned inside out and fled

You summoned a cannibal
You summoned an underfed animal
You summoned a cannibal
This sun is so incomplete always

A cyanide beehive
A fentanyl landslide plague
Your eyes have gone hiding in your head
You're longing for earthshine
But I'm in a saltmine quake
My empathy chokes in clouds of dread

You summoned a cannibal
You summoned an underfed animal
You summoned a cannibal
This sun is so incomplete always

This sun is so incomplete always
This sun is so incomplete always

You summoned a cannibal
You summoned an underfed animal
You summoned a cannibal
This life is so incomplete always

(You summoned a cannibal)
(You summoned a cannibal)

You summoned a cannibal
You summoned a cannibal

(You summoned a cannibal)
