

Glass Mannequin

VOLA

Worthless

My inner vision is birthless
Holes appear on its surface
And move us further apart

Restless

I dream of solving the big test
Finding the flaw in your protest
That moves us further apart

I don't want to throw this glass javelin
I don't want to watch it fly
I don't want to break my glass mannequin once again

Find us

The final map is behind us
We long for brightness that blinds us
And moves us back to the start

I don't want to throw this glass javelin
I don't want to watch it fly
I don't want to break my glass mannequin once again

I don't want to throw this glass javelin
I don't want to watch it fly
I don't want to break my glass mannequin once again

Once again
(Once again)
