

Devils are Awake

Volbeat

Hold your tongue
You evil one
Don't speak that loud
You'll pay with blood
And swear by the book
But live in sin

Vintage aromas smells of blood
And in the name of God above
Failure is his own impotence
What to believe, we cannot see
Blind fully bending knees and told what to do
And pay by fate

Just as we thought we found the trust
The system has its rotten ones
A never ending circle bend

A never ending circle bend

Where do you go
Where do you enter
To beat the mind
And join the lonely sun
How many times do you remember
To see the light without a darkened cloud

We learn our kids to fall asleep
Have them believe the world is in peace
But outside, devils are awake

Rebuild your life
Rebound in time
And wait your turn until it's right
Turn villains into nothingness

The bastards made you fall asleep
Hypnosis by the telling screen
Are you awake or giving in

Changing is not a crime at all
More of a slowly wake-up call
And outside devils are awake

Outside the devils are awake

Where do you go
Where do you enter
To beat the mind
And join the lonely sun
How many times do you remember
To see the light without a darkened cloud

And on a night in December
You'll be invited by the lonely sun
And by the time you will remember
To see the light without the darkened cloud
