Starting to believe life is love Starting to believe that I can lose control High and low with emotions Woah-oh oh-oh oh

I've drained the cup of disappointment Cleaning out my closet 'cause I know I fear All the boots at my doorstep Woah-oh oh-oh oh

The day has gone Wherever I may go The page has turned Woah-oh oh-oh oh...

Gather around me please, together we're fine Nothing is unleashed but the darkness and the light Maybe our wounds forever will burn We're taking some of yours, for nothing in return

Higher above, we'll have to see the reason for everything Who will save the picture of all of us?
On that day, we'll greet our fallen ones
I believe
Yeah, maybe I believe

Freedom our souls demand

Never to get out of hand

I can no longer feel

The fire won't cleanse the soul

The burning will close up the wound

I can no longer breath

The day has gone Wherever I may go
The page has turned Woah-oh oh-oh oh...
