It's good to be here, long time no see my dear I took the run out to the road to find a way But the loneliness broke into tears I believe I was wrong but baby now I know your love is not a thing You throw out in the cold and walked away I'm so sorry, please say you forgive

Close your eyes baby and lend me your finger Together we walk out as one No lonely nights, broken promises or fights will return anymore

I remember a time I believe was fine But inside my heart broke down in two Something inside starts to burn like a fire And I knew it was you

We're broken and damned
But together we'll find a way
And no longer shall hell awaits
We will seek all the light in the day
Cause forever our love will breathe

Close your eyes baby and lend me your finger Together we walk out as one No lonely nights, broken promises or fights will return anymore

I remember a time I believe was fine But inside my heart broke down in two Something inside starts to burn like a fire And I knew it was you

We're broken and damned
But together we'll find a way
And no longer shall hell awaits
We will seek all the light in the day
Cause forever our love will breathe

We're broken and damned
But together we'll find a way
And no longer shall hell awaits
We will seek all the light in the day
Cause forever our love will breathe
