

Days Before You Died

Volturian

When time's about to end
I still fail to understand
That you're leaving
I swear I gave it all to be
The kind of girl you asked
But it was not enough
From what it seems now

To hear "I'm sorry"
Wouldn't change the way I feel
Everytime I see your face
You're not the same man anymore

Days before you died
Was burning
Lightning from the sky
Now I'm falling
Days before you died
You used to hold me
To bring will back to life
Now I'm falling down
Run away
I'll learn to walk
My own path once again

I've tried so hard to stay
It's not easy to prevail
Over this feeling
Now you can send your full embrace
To a new address
Now that I broke the veil
I couldn't see you through

Days before you died
Was burning
Lightning from the sky
Now I'm falling
Days before you died
You used to hold me
To bring will back to life
Now I'm falling down
Run away
I'll learn to walk
My own path once again

To hear "I'm sorry"
Wouldn't change the way I feel
Everytime I see your face
You're not the same man anymore

Days before you died
Was burning
Lightning from the sky
Now I'm falling
Days before you died
You used to hold me
To bring will back to life

Now I'm falling down
Run away
I'll learn to walk
My own path once again
