

Haunting Symphony

Volturian

Call me, wake me up from sleeping
I've been waiting for so long
Where mind can escape
The heart can feel it
I'll stay away from all lies
You had to tell to keep me
Away from your fragile hold
To make me blind
So that's your gaze
Could fade within the night

But I ran out of thorns
Tonight we will remind
The draining days we spent alone
As they will be no more

In a dream, maybe someday
Finally, we will be as one
Memories, in this haunting symphony
We will be as one
Finally, we will be as one

Falling in the void below
Away from the fading light
The dark will speak about our names
Again, for years to come

As a new day will rise
Tonight, we will remind
The draining days we spent alone
Nevermore

In a dream, maybe someday
Finally, we will be as one
Memories, in this haunting symphony
We will be as one
Finally, we will be as one

No rest for the sleepers
No rest for the sleepers

In a dream, maybe someday
Finally, we will be as one
Memories, in this haunting symphony
We will be as one
Finally, we will be as one
