

In A Heartbeat

Volturian

After all the nights I spent alone without you
Together but just torn apart
So you know, I never counted on your faults
I'm used to struggle by my own

Just to see how it feels to collide
I was close enough to miss a heartbeat
With no wings, it's not easy to fly
But to see you I'd leave in a heartbeat

Can't tell what's fake from what is real
Can't see that light ahead
(But) I feel you in the dark
Can't tell what's fake from what is real
I feel you in the dark

Once again, all I know is I'll be fighting alone
Count another day to waste without your call
Begging for you to return
Begging for you to return

Just to see how it feels to collide
I was close enough to miss a heartbeat
With no wings, it's not easy to fly
But to see you I'd leave in a heartbeat

Can't tell what's fake from what is real
Can't see that light ahead
(But) I feel you in the dark
Can't tell what's fake from what is real
I feel you in the dark

Can't tell what's fake from what is real
Can't see that light ahead
(But) I feel you in the dark
Can't tell what's fake from what is real
I feel you in the dark
