

Whispers in the night keep me awake
How long has it been since I slept
Down on the floor waiting for days
To hear the sound of your steps
Memories haunt me wherever I go
As void sucks me in
As you are not fading out
But so close day after day
Seems like I could feel your touch
I'm chasing you, you're chasing me

I will act like all this mattered
Waiting for you
I'll never stop as long
As our flame still burns
Stay, lay here just for a while
It's all that I need
To make you remember
Why it was worth to stay

As you slept away I felt I could save
You from your own fears and regrets
I was so young and I didn't know
The price I was going to pay

I will act like all this mattered
Waiting for you
I'll never stop as long
As our flame still burns
Stay, lay here just for a while
It's all that I need
To make you remember
Why it was worth to stay

In the fall
We forgot the way to get back home
As we were just a moment in time
But our pain still burns

I will act like all this mattered
Waiting for you
I'll never stop as long
As our flame still burns
Stay, lay here just for a while
It's all that I need
To make you remember
Why it was worth to stay
