

Bend

Volumes

Tell me how I'm supposed to beg when I'm Feeling like I'm dead inside living in a microscope
Maybe I'm fine
Numb no feeling into me this time
You put your plug into me then it died and I forgot to choke
Maybe I'm fine

This time it's too late
You tell me that it's your mistake but
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again
You'll run and I'll stay still wishing that you'll come back someday
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again

Hold my breath, and tell me that you're right
Can't fake another feeling when you feed me with your antidote
Maybe I'm fine
Tell me that I'm really on your mind
Tell me that I'm really not just living in your light alone

This time it's too late
You tell me that it's your mistake but
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again
You run and I'll stay still wishing that you'll come back someday
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again

I wasn't worth it
It didn't work
We'll never make it past this moment
Lost in a memory, it never ends
You make me break but I won't bend
I wasn't worth it
It didn't work
We'll never make it past this moment
Lost in a memory, it never ends
You make me break but I won't bend

This time it's too late
You tell me that it's your mistake but
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again
You run and I'll stay still wishing that you'll come back someday
Everything that you say to me you won't bend
Over and over again
Over and over again
