

Sidewinder

Volumes

I watched it die right in front of me
Broken wing, no song to sing
No miracles for the suffering
One more time, kill the sidewinder

Welcome back to the silencing
Meet me down in the underneath
Hold it up to light and see
One stone, two fakes, three snakes

If it stopped, you'd need it, if we dropped
You need to pay the cost, to think that you're the one
Your hands tied to a velvet rope
This time, it all unfolds

I watch you fall from grace
When I put the hook in your mouth and let you bleed again
When I watch you fall from grace
You'll see, you need to tie the knot to breathe again

So say hello to a bitter me
Back from the dead, spawned from suffering
Drown me out, but I still breathe
Burn your eyes to look at me

Succinct watching, you hang yourself from a velvet rope
This time, I smile as it all unfolds

I watch you fall from grace
When I put the hook in your mouth and let you bleed again
Oh, you'll feel the fall from grace
You'll see, you need to tie the knot to breathe again

Endless cyclical round it goes again
Negates you priceless, we're suffering

I watched it die right in front of me
Broken wing, no song to sing
No miracles for the suffering
One more time, kill the sidewinder

Sidewinder

No miracles for the suffering
No miracles for the sidewinder
