

One May Never Know

Von Herten Brothers

You laid your life
On the line
Once and for all

You believed it was time
To draw the line
Between now and ever more

One may (???)
One may never know
Calling on the side
I'm searching in the east
Reading from the sky
It's always been
It's been always (???)

Craving for the light
So pure, My craving for the light
It's always been
It's always around

Always far away
Always hear you so close
Always near
Always here

White!
Light!

White!
Light!

Always far away
Always hear you so close
Always near
Always here
