

Get It Back

Vonda Shepard

There's a worry in my heart
And I need someone to lift it
A confusion in my head
And I someone to sift it

There's a ringing in my ears
And I want to turn it off
And I want to turn it off

There's a window in my soul
And I want you to climb through it
There's a love that has expired
And I want you to renew it

There's a feeling I have lost
And I want to get it back
And I want to get it back
And I need to get it back

There's a simple point of view
And I need myself to listen
Oh the time get off track
Is when I lose my intuition

There's a freedom I have lost
And I want to get it back
And I want to get it back
And I need to get it back
