

Balance

Vory

Hey, did you get my call? I need you to pull up on me real quick
I had a little bit too much to drink. I need you right now.

She like, bae, pick me up
She way too deep in the Lauderdale
I like that pussy without a spell
Say, it's loud where you at, but it's louder here

Lift me up
If I call the Uber, you'll shower here
You should bring a friend just to volunteer
Got too high off the Perky's. I'm out of here.

Lift me up
I booked the jet for the morning
I got to be gone in the morning
I'm sorry. I left you racks on the dresser.
You keep it
I promise I'm moving in silence
Vulnerable out with your friends
I know that she's single and wild'n again
She's purposely wanting revenge
But I'm trying to meet you at ends
I'm trying to make sure it ends
I'm saying, I'm saying, so yeah

Give me a challenge
They're trying to close up the balance
When I'm dying, I'm dying the realest
I'm a hero, but same time a villain
And I'm knowing you know the feeling
Give me a break
There's only so much I can take
It's already too much on my plate
What would it take for me to give in and just break?
You want to have it your way

Balcony views she's talking
I'm staring at the print. That shit looks great.
I'm staring in her soul
I know that she wish she was bent
That shit feels great
I'm scared that she might tell my secrets without my consent

She got a man, and I got a plan
I'm planning to leave her alone
She's wearing the ring, but not on the finger you gave her
Just leave her alone
She's been venting all night to me
She's been smoking all night with me
She's been drinking all night with me
Might as well just stay the night with me?

Give me a challenge
They tryna close up the balance
When I'm dying, I'm dying the realest
I'm a hero, but same time a villain

And I'm knowing you know the feeling
Give me a break
There's only so much I could take
It's already too much on my plate
What would it take for me to give in and just break?
You want to have it your way

Last time I saw you, you was lost about that nigga
Last time we spoke, girl, you said you was off that nigga
Last time I saw you, you said, "Vory, you that nigga."
Two drinks got you, sleaze off that liquor
Ignoring my calls like you must have let him back in the picture

I know I said fuck you, but you know it's fuck you
You know I'm still fucking with you
And what would it take for you to move on from a break
And you not to lie to my face?
I'm giving you grace
I'll leave if you plan to replace
Know you throw that shit right in my face
Fighting with you while I'm fighting a case
Girl, that's not the case
Girl, what can you say?
If I'm riding, I'm riding today
Cause if I'm dyin', I'm dyin' today
Wouldn't want it no other way
Oh yeah, yeah

You're way too delusional
I think I'm confusing you
I told you to be my muse
But now I think I'm amusing you
Got way, way too used to you
Started as a muse but got amused to you
I got way, way too used to you
Fuck around and cut ties when you think I'm using you
For the sake of the music, yeah
Oh yeah

Just give me a break
It's only so much I can take
It's already too much on my plate
Oh yeah
What would it take for me to give up and just break?
But you just have it your way

Girl, give me a break
Girl, give me a break
Girl, give me a break
Give me a break
Give me a break
Yeah, yeah
Give me a break
Give me a break
Give me a break
Give me a break
Give me a break
Give me a palace
They tryna run out the palace
I'm dyin', I'm dyin', I'm the realest