

Never Had This

Vory

I think it's time that we had something to say
I think it's time you come over my way
No, I ain't rushing
I need something

Show me what you're tryna do
When the lights turn dark blue
And it's just me and you
You know I ain't waiting 'round
Make a move if you want it now
Baby, what you tryna do?
'Cause you know that a girl like me ain't average
And I ain't letting everybody have it
Damn it

You should treat this moment like it costs a billion dollars
You should treat this moment like you're really tryna holla
You should treat this moment like you're really tryna get it
Like you're doing something you'll never ever forget
I'm talking life-changing
You ain't never had this, never seen that
You ain't never had this, never seen that
You ain't never had this, never seen that, that, that

Hey, think it's time to focus on myself and not these women
Showed me who you are a thousand times, I said, "Forget it" (Aye)
Showed me that you're done a thousand times, I didn't get it
Heartbroken and damaged, aw babe
Heartbroken and damaged, aw babe
Think my job is finished, aw babe
And I hate I had to learn the hard way
Ooh-yeah
I'm still the same as who I was when you met me
Now tell the world you wanna turn them against me
Fell out of love with you, I still made ends meet
You're the type to link up with my opps and try to end me
I heard all about you, out from LA to Houston to Miami
That pussy needs an Emmy or Grammy
How am I insecure, girl? I got plenty
If we're being real, too many
You still in your feelings 'bout the same shit, I guess

You should treat this moment like it costs a billion dollars
You should treat this moment like you're really tryna holla
You should treat this moment like you're really tryna get it
Like you're doing something you'll never ever forget
I'm talking life-changing
You ain't never had this, never seen that
You ain't never had this, never seen that
You ain't never had this, never seen that, that, that

Oh, never seen that
Oh, never seen that
