

Berlin Without Return

Voxtrot

Do you spend your whole life trying to get back home?
Where do you go?
Kino eyes unfold you in a Kodachrome
The feelings show
Oh what do you know, baby
What do you know
What do you know about where I come from?
What do you know
Tell me, what do you know
About who I am?
When I see you naked, I see more than flesh
Do you see the same thing?
Entertainment value
No, I couldn't care less
The feeling's hide
And you were so young, baby
You were so young
Dragging your feet in the face of creation
I was so young
Yeah, we were so young
And still there was you, the center of me
Oh and still there was you, the center of me
I don't know you, baby, you don't know me
We are just victims of the same situation
Baby's big war, tell what you die for
We were just born to lose this life
Could we please get married
Do this just for us?
The way we would do
It doesn't make much sense but maybe nothing does
It never will
And these gears years keep turning
These lives keep burning and
Love keeps changing around you
Stuck in one place, painting your face
The color of milk
The color of sky
The colors of you
The colors don't lie
And I don't know you, baby, you don't know me.
We are just victims of the same situation
Baby's big war, tell what you die for
Urges grow cold but the feeling stays
And what do you know
Tell me, what do you know?
You don't know me
Don't you question my love
And what do you know
Tell me, what do you know?
You don't know me
Don't you question my love