

Everybody

VV Brown

Don't you think it's funny how we're different but yet we're all the same
Running from our similarities as if we're on a speeding train
Maybe you are thinking you're an alien coming from outer space
But don't you get it twisted 'cos we're simply all a part of human race

Everybody needs love in their life
How it hits us all the same
Everybody needs boy (boys)
And needs girl (girl), how we need it everyday
Everybody needs you and needs me
We're not differently the same
Everybody say yes, if you do
Everybody shout out if it's true
Everybody needs that

Why are we always fussing over silly little things, why do we care?
Ah ah, ah
Can't we see the beauty in the difference and appreciate it there?
Ah ah, ah
So afraid of meeting different people trying things we never knew
Ah ah, ah
But maybe if we took a look and listened good we'd all know what to do
Ah ah, ah

Everybody needs love in their life
How it hits us all the same
Everybody needs boy (boys)
And needs girl (girl) how we need it everyday
Everybody needs you and needs me
We're not differently the same
Everybody say yes, if you do
Everybody shout out if it's true

Everybody needs that

Everybody needs that
Everybody needs that
Everybody needs that
