

Ghosts

VV Brown

Stepped off the curb side
Hoping to find the better place
Close to the border
Watching me, watching this

I jumped in the water
Feeling it over my head
It's chaos underwater
Watching me, calling me

Dried on the highway
Moving fast to get to you
Crashed into sorrow
I hoped that you would love me still

And I thrashed into the light
You had your luck and I'm missing you tonight
And I thrashed into the light
Your love is gone, so I'm missing you tonight

Whatever happened to reason?
Whatever happened to our love?
Whatever happened to questions?
I need you in my life

And I thrashed into the light
You had your luck and I'm missing you tonight
And I thrashed into the light
Your love is gone, so I'm missing you tonight

And I thrashed into the light
You had your luck and I'm missing you tonight
And I thrashed into the light
Your love is gone, so I'm missing you tonight

And I thrashed into the light
You had your luck and I'm missing you tonight
