

Red Balloon

VV Brown

How it hits you like a sudden hurricane
See the wind and how it sweeps you off your feet
You won't ever, ever feel the same again
It's the only explanation that you need

Eyes go round and round, feet off solid ground
It's like a feeling on a rollercoaster train
It's addictive when you're calling out my name

Because this love is like the moon or a big red round balloon
When you feel like you are in control
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up

Like a drug it's running deep without your veins
Because the one you love has got you on her chain
Secretly you love the feeling in your brain
You don't wanna chase the one you love away

Eyes go round and round, feet off solid ground
It's like a feeling on a rollercoaster train
It's addictive when you're calling out my name

Because this love is like the moon or a big red round balloon
When you feel like you are in control
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up

Love is like the moon or a big red round balloon
When you feel like you are in control
Better keep your head up, head up
Love is like the moon or a big red round balloon
When you feel like you are in control
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
Better keep your head up, head up
