

Why

WAAX

Why are you still sad?
You were such a happy child
Look what you have
You are young and in your prime

You could go and make some sense of your life
There's a world outside your home but you're wasted on your own

Why'd it go so wrong?
You haven't left your house for so long [?]
Always saying that you're tired

You could go and make some sense of your life
But you're sleeping all the time
You been living in your mind
Why?

Why? Why?

You are young and in your prime
You could go and make some more of your life
There's a world outside your home but you're wasted on your own
You're just staring at your phone
