

Everything Has Your Memory

Wade Bowen

Names in an oak tree
Shine in the stars
The feeling of lonely
Tequila shots up on the bar
Quiet in the morning
Waking up from a dream
Heartache hurting
Everything has your memory

Everywhere I go, you're the someone that I see
It won't leave me alone, oh, the love we used to know
Who we used to be, baby, tell me where it goes
Everything, everything has your memory

Shadow on a sidewalk
Face in a crowd
Slow song playing
Neon sign shutting down
Sunday rain, Texas plates
Silver cross on a chain
Cloud of dust leaving me
Everything has your memory

Everywhere I go, you're the someone that I see
It won't leave me alone, oh, the love we used to know
Who we used to be, baby, tell me where it goes
Everything, everything has your memory

Oh, every day and night
Every second in between
Everything, everything, everything has your memory
Everywhere I go, you're the someone that I see
It won't leave me alone, oh, the love we used to know
Who we used to be, baby, tell me where it goes
Everything, everything has your memory
Yeah, everything, everything has your memory
Ooh, yeah
