

Who I Am

Wage War

Go

You learn to live with pressure when it's the only thing you feel
It's never like you see, it feels like you never know what's real
I don't cave on the outside
But it wears me down in my own mind

Don't forget I'm human, I'm not alive for your amusement
Lost in your delusion, you don't know who I am
Don't forget I'm human, I've got the open wounds to prove it
And you don't get to choose it, you don't know who I am

Who I am

You learn to live with judgment like it's a shadow on the wall
It's never good enough, it just wants to see you, wants to see you fall
Wants to see you fall
Guess that's life after all

Don't forget I'm human, I'm not alive for your amusement
Lost in your delusion, you don't know who I am
Don't forget I'm human, I've got the open wounds to prove it
And you don't get to choose it, you don't know who I am

So sick of reading what you say
Say it to my face
What?
Say it to my face

Don't forget I'm human, it takes all I have to do this
Lost in your delusion, you don't know who I am
Don't forget I'm human, I've got the open wounds to prove it
And you don't get to choose it, you don't know who I am

Don't forget I'm human, you don't know who I am
Don't forget I'm human, you don't know who I am
You learn to live with pressure, you learn to live with hate
You learn to live with judgment, you don't know who I am
Who I am
Who I am