

Long Shot

Waking Ashland

You made the call
I step outside, cross that line
And I lose control
Because I've been waiting
It's beautiful to let go don't you know
Your everything I try to be
The rise and fall to respond to the call
I got butterflies

Your all I have
So break me down
Your all I am
And nothing else matters

This is a long shot
It's all I have
I'm ready to step it up
All I need is your hand
This is a long shot
It's who I am
I'm ready to take off
All I need is a plan

I'm calling out
Take me, make me
I'm finding out
You are my reason
It's beautiful to let go don't you know
Your everything I try to be
The rise and fall to respond to the call
I sing a new song

This is a longshot
This is the longest shot
I'm barely moving you keep me breathing
