Flawed

Wale

Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God

Look, yeah
Look-look, yeah, okay
A lot of red solos
In back of the crib, SoHo
A lot of 'em is humble, a lot of 'em go Sunoco
Gassed off the likes, advice is not important
I still pray for your life, despite I'm not a part of it
I ain't 'bout this industry, but this shit be important
I ain't in your comments, your IG look so exhausting
Had a premonition, you probably would switch up on me
The fire conversations, I miss 'em, so now I'm salty
Still want you, shine, there's haters on your mind
There's strangers in your circle, there's angels by your side
I hate to say you changed, you hate to say I've not
But fame run up and down, fame is suicide
I could never hate you
You cool with everybody, guess I'm everybody too
Still I'm thankful that God made you
We had a great run, now go run away, it's cool

'Cause everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God

Everybody flawed, it ain't hard to see through
She accept my flaws and say, "Bae, I need you"
Went against the odds, now it's silver teaspoons
When I had it hard (La, la, la, la)
Can't come to my dawg, tighter than supreme glue
Bitch, you fuckin' with my dawgs, leavin' me with loose screws
Break your back against the wall, have you screamin', "Ooh, ooh"
I'ma fuck that pussy hard, hard, hard, hard, hard
I bought you a pair of titties like a pair of new shoes
You left your old nigga, now your life look brand new
Your pussy like an engine, I hope it ain't ran through
I couldn't see me house wifin' you
And now it's time to part (Apart)
Never thought you played the part (Part)
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God (God, God, God, God, God)

'Cause everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Everybody flawed, I could never need you
Ain't nobody God, God, God, God, God
