Walk the Moon

Say what
I was happy
I was happy for you
Now I'm really, really...

Head-heart malfunction
Maybe it's not an ending
Maybe it's a beginning

Up-shift, and the wind in my face
I could use a little time and space
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)

Up-shift, and the wind in my face
I could use a little time and space
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)

I relax my grip
And I roll my wrists, shake loose
I'm like new
So maybe I still notice you and traces that control the strangest faces shades a ghost in my head
Well that was the end
This is the floor
I like to let go
I would like to let go

Up-shift, and the wind in my face
I could use a little time and space
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)

Ooh maybe in another dimension
May be nuts, I don't need incarnation
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)

When you're broken like the bottom
And you're perfect while you sleep
Call us up and let us know
I would like to let go-o-o

When you've got the love post-mortem
It stand another day
Call us up and let us know
I would like to let go-o-o

The last chapter in the story of my old self
Left that damsel in distress
Waiting for a [?] sex
In line to be your next ex

Ooh what if I don't want to live like that?
Am I just a lab rat?
Doing what's done to me

Doesn't sound fun to me

I am not the subject
I am the experiment
I am mad scientist
Invent my way out of this

(Press restart, press restart)

Up-shift, and the wind in my face
I could use a little time and space
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)

Ooh maybe in another dimension
May be nuts, I don't need incarnation
Just broke the hell out of my heart
(Press restart, press restart)
