

Flash In The Pan

Wallice

Just a flash in the pan
Time to hang up my hat
Living life so differently
With you, it feels, oh, so sweet
But now I've gotta change my path

Got the heart of a fool
Tried to play it so cool
All my life I've never found
The kind of love to stick around
The kind of love that's worth waiting for

I thought I wanted to get you back
You told me this would never last
I thought I wanted to change your mind
But you were never really mine
You were never really mine
No

The wrong place, the right time
Roll with the changing tides
Sit around, commiserate
Times are changing, it's too late
For anything to change my mind

I thought I wanted to get you back
You told me this would never last
I thought I wanted to change your mind
But you were never really mine

I thought I wanted to get you back
You told me this would never last
I thought I wanted to change your mind
But you were never really mine
You were never really mine
No