

Japan

Wallice

Bought a one-way ticket
To central Japan
Getting lost in the city
That was once my dad's
My own hometown
Never felt like home
I'm not asking for your pity
But there's nowhere left to go

Tokyo's so loud
I wish I knew how to drown it out
Home's so hard to find
I wish we had more time

My grandfather passed
When I was barely one
Burning incense around the pine trees
Fell and scraped my knee
Always on the run

Tokyo's so loud
I wish I knew how to drown it out
Home's so hard to find
I wish we had more time

Tokyo's so loud
I wish I knew how to drown it out
Home's so hard to find
I wish we had more time

I wish we had more time
