

Another week has come and gone
Seasons change and time is moving on
What do I have here to show?
Time Square felt so long ago
Who am I to say it's destiny?
To make a living off of being me
In one ear I'm Mr. Big Shot
Out the other without a second thought

Maybe I better start keeping, keeping
A running tab of all my feelings, feelings
Before I jump into the deep end, deep end
But you know I love to swim
But you know I love to swim

Now I'm pushing 25
But I've never felt so alive
Sing a song about being 23
Life is changing and it scares me
I'm in a crisis of my quarter life
Wouldn't wish that I go back in time
Felt like a loser, but I am ready to win
I should start planning my second win

Maybe I better start keeping, keeping
A running tab of all my feelings, feelings
Before I jump into the deep end, deep end
But you know I love to swim
Maybe I better start keeping, keeping
A running tab of all my feelings, feelings
Before I jump into the deep end, deep end
But you know I love to swim

Maybe I better start keeping, keeping
A running tab of all my feelings, feelings
Before I jump into the deep end, deep end
But you know I love to swim
