

Why Do You Love Me?

Wallice

Gotta clear my mind, got to do it fast
I know what to say, don't know how to ask
When you spend the night, when I pick a fight
When you say you're wrong, when I know you're right

I'm feeling good, I think it's time to self-sabotage
I'm knocking on wood, I hope you don't see through my facade

Why do you love me?
Why do you care?
I get so needy
'Cause I know you'll be there
Wake up and I think of you every night and day
Honest to God, I'm scared you'll slip away
I need you to need me, and I know it's not fair

Scattered my brain, I'm tossing and turning and I can't sleep
Don't know what's wrong, don't know what's come over me
I want you to stay
Please hold my hand while I cry my tear
Can't catch a break or my breath when you're next to me

Oh I'm feeling good, I think it's time to self-sabotage
I'm knocking on wood, I hope you don't see through my facade

Why do you love me?
Why do you care?
I get so needy, 'cause I know you'll be there
Wake up and I think of you every night and day
Honest to God, I'm scared you'll slip away
I need you to need me, and I know it's not fair
