Calling After Me

Wallows

Who's somebody you know you shouldn't call?
Who were you kissing in the back of your car?
Who's the one, the one who got away?
Who are you thinking of when you end your day?

'Cause I know you can see we're more than a secret
You know I can be just what you want

'Cause I've been out until the morning
And I don't think I'll last another night
I knew the feeling would be forming
After I took a look into your eyes
But are you ready for it, darling?
I'll take on your responsibilities
And you've got everybody calling
But I know that you're calling after me

Don't play dumb, I know you fantasize
You could have me on my back every night
I don't mind the things that you've been doing
Think you need someone like me to get through it

And I know you can see we'll have people talking
You know we can be just what they want

'Cause I've been out until the morning
And I don't think I'll last another night
I knew the feeling would be forming
After I took a look into your eyes
But are you ready for it, darling?
I'll take on your responsibilities
And you've got everybody calling
But I know that you're calling after me

'Cause I've been out until the morning
And I don't think I'll last another night
I knew the feeling would be forming
After I took a look into your eyes
But are you ready for it, darling?
I'll take on your responsibilities
And you've got everybody calling
But I know that you're calling after me
You're calling after me
