

Fool Moon Fire

Walter Egan

I once was a fresh young kid
Nothing could drag me down
I lived and I loved what I did
No one could turn it round

I laughed and I joked with my friends
They don't suspect a thing
Alone by the light of the moon
A change comes over me

How can I stand this lunacy
Feeding my dark desires
Look at the night time sky you fool
It's a full moon fire

Day after a day, it's no use
At night there's something changed
I just try to play it loose
Be cool but it's getting strange

I know it won't be long
Before the world can see
Alone in the light of the moon,
I met lycanthropy.

How can I stand this lunacy
Feeding my dark desires
Look at the night time sky you fool
It's a full moon fire

Now my friend you know
It's so, so hard to say
Sometimes darkness feeds
It beats the light of day

How can I stand this lunacy
Feeding my dark desires
Look at the night time sky you fool
It's a full moon fire
