Let Go

Walter Egan

Impatience has got a hold you see
Our conversations are feeling old to me
A change of heart now I feel already gone
Its time to start now no sense in holding on

I've got to go, let go let go let go
Let go let go let go

I've got my motor running I can't wait for no one
I just can't stay any longer I feel there's something wrong

I've got to go let go let go let go
Let go let go let go

There's no time to lie in bed today
I've got to get away get away
And just go, let go let go let go let go let go let go
