I want even your name
 Your gaze, your small gestures, everything
 I want to hold even all of your memories
 Your time, your every moment, everything
 I want it all

The feelings I've kept hidden keep slipping out
 When I see you, when I face you
 I get dizzy, you're just too pretty
 Wanna be your love
 But my heart can't take it
 When I see you, when I face you
 Nothing goes how I want

I want even your name
 Your gaze, your small gestures, everything
 I want to hold even all of your memories
 Your time, your every moment, everything

At the end of each day
 I want to talk with you about all the pointless things
 At the end of my seasons
 I want to fill them with stories of being with you
 I want to have your heart

I want it all

I wanna be yours, I wanna be yours, girl
 You're incomparable with anyone else, in my own world
 You're all I want to see
 Even in this moment, I want to have you

I just whisper to myself, like a fool
 I get afraid, I lose my confidence in front of you, but why?
 When I see you, when I face you
 I want you by my side

I want even your name
 Your gaze, your small gestures, everything
 I want to hold even all of your memories
 Your time, your every moment, everything

At the end of each day
 I want to talk with you about all the pointless things
 At the end of my seasons
 I want to fill them with stories of being with you
 I want to have your heart

Just thinking of you makes my heart race
 I want to tell you, but it's already taken so long
 Baby, there's too many things

I want to tell you
You made my heart beat again

Even if I think about it hundreds of time, you're all I need
If you like me, tell me now
You know what I mean
I'm dreaming of a girl like you
Open your heart, come closer to me

At the end of each day
I want to talk with you about all the pointless things
At the end of my seasons
I want to fill them with stories of being with you
I want to have your heart
