

Hopeless

Ward Thomas

My head's such a mess
It's telling me that things are never getting better
My heart's still obsessed
With the promise that I'd always stand by you forever

'Cause you're just in there lying
Lying doing nothing
While I'm out here crying all alone
Am I out here fighting
Fighting over nothing?
'Cause I'm out here fighting on my own

Tell me that you'll meet me halfway
Tell me baby, this time you'll change
Tell me that you want me again
Don't tell me it's hopeless
Tell me, am I asking too much?
Tell me that you love me enough
Please tell me that you're not giving up
Don't tell me it's hopeless

Why do I still laugh
When each time, I hope I never get an answer
How will we live
When it's only me that's holding us together?

'Cause you're just in there lying
Lying doing nothing
While I'm out here crying all alone

Tell me that you'll meet me halfway
Tell me baby, this time you'll change
Tell me that you want me again
Don't tell me it's hopeless
Tell me, am I asking too much?
Tell me that you love me enough
Please tell me that you're not giving up
Don't tell me it's hopeless

Should I walk away, walk away?
'Cause you're breaking in anyway
Should I walk away, walk away?
'Cause you're breaking in anyway

Tell me that you'll meet me halfway
Tell me baby, this time you'll change
Tell me that you want me again
Don't tell me it's hopeless
Tell me, am I asking too much?
Tell me that you love me enough
Please tell me that you're not giving up
Don't tell me it's hopeless

Should I walk away, walk away?
'Cause you're breaking in anyway
Should I walk away, walk away?
'Cause you're breaking in anyway
